Movement of Population: Altogether 1,500,000 people have changed their address in Hungary in the past 15 months. In the first three months of this year alone, the population of Budapest rose by 37,000. This has further aggravated the overcrowding in Budapest where a large number of people are having to share homes and even rooms. (Hungarian information service and MTI 23.5.57)