WEISS (fnu) 45, average height, brown hair, used his position as director of an insulation enterprise of TIMISOARA, a subsidiary of the BUCHAREST Enterprise "Izolatii", as a means of personal profit. At the same time he was a Party member in good standing.

In 1950 the insulation enterprise undertook a job on a RESITA store. The wood necessary for the work was purchased by WEISS in TIMISOARA from whence, in collusion with a certain firm, WEISS had the wood delivered to the enterprise at a price much above the official price. He accomplished this theft by handing in a falsified bill. Ordinarily, an offense of this sort would have resulted in expulsion from the Party. When WEISS was discovered, however, he used the influence of his brother who was director in the Ministry of Construction and subsequently in got off scot-free.

RUPCINSKI (fnu), 32, tall, brown hair and eyes, married, tubercular, two children, was an insulation technician who added many innovations to the enterprise. One of his inventions was a system for installing plaques of insulation to roofs which brought the norm from eight to twelve meters square. The principle of the new system was the introduction of pulleys to raise the plaques to the ceiling level, thus saving labor. Although he was a Party member, he avoided political activities, devoting most of his attention and time to his work which was done with great competence.

OSCAR (fnu), 41, average height, graying brown hair and eyes, married, was director of the Personnel Section of "Enterprise "No. 5 Isolatii". He was a master in the art of softly coaxing the workers into greater efforts. His speeches were a word for word reflection of his instructions received from the Party organization in the factory.
