(excerpts)

".... Still nowadays -- or rather nowadays again -- words of hatred and revenge flow towards us from West Germany. Such words would not be uttered by anybody in any broadcasting station in the German Democratic Republic.... Any word of hatred would be considered in the German Democratic Republic as a criminal voice directed not only against Poland, but also against the workers of the German Democratic Republic.

We are witnessing a strange phenomenon. The bankrupts preying on the Polish emigres are complaining that we are making an effort to bring about closer relations between ourselves and democratic Germany. But these vilifying voices are flowing from broadcasting stations located on the territory of the Bonn Republic. These radio stations which are slandering us in Polish are controlled by former Hitlerites. From radio stations maintained by the same circles which are generously pouring out dollars to revive the criminal Wehrmacht -- the same circles are attacking us for putting ideals of friendship before hatred and enmity....."
